

16 May 2019

Commission 7 delegates, corporate partners and other participants

We will like to extend you an invitation to the '2019 FIG Commission 7 Annual Meeting' (Theme: Digital Twin, Smart Cities and Smart Land Information) which will be held in Seoul, Korea between August 5th and August 9th of this year. This event will also be linked to the 'Smart Geospatial Expo 2019' (which will be visiting on Aug 7th) where participants could have access to the most advanced technologies, systems and ideas from Korea and many parts of the world.

In the Annual Meeting of this year, we expect to share knowledge and experiences related to cadaster and land information in the rapidly changing global market. We hope you will join us because we are ready to listen from you and to exchange lots of productive information, especially about the Digital Twin, Surveying Technologies, Land Policies, Sustainable development goals. Land PPPs and many of the important topics we discuss in Commission 7

LX, a public agency and the organizer of the event, will ensure that the participants get the best experience of geospatial technologies available in Korea, as well as dynamic technical tours and visiting of historical sites including the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ). The participants will be exposed to interact with the key government officials and related private sector parties of Korea. All events will be accompanied by an English interpreter to enable smooth communication.

Full information of the event can be found on this website: <https://www.com7figseoul.com/>

In order to allow us to better plan the event, we would greatly appreciate your quick reply before May 31st of your intention to attend the event. In this, if you would like to present a technical paper related to the theme of the annual meeting, please send us a title and short abstract to the email com7figseoul@gmail.com.

Sincerely yours,

FIG Commission 7 Chair Daniel Paez

President of LX Chang-Hak Choi
